

This shaded in circle means that the value could be equal to this position on the number line.

The unshaded circle means that the value could NOT be equal to this position on the number line.

