

Calculate the area of the tan coloured skin on the face above. Assume that the areas where the dimensions are situated is tan. All dimensions are given in mm.

Help: You might need to look up how to work out the area of a segment to find the area of the hair and subtract that from the face.