

Zoe has a biased spinner as shown below.

The chances of the spinner landing on the white part is 0.65.

What is the probability that the spinner will land on the white part twice?

What is the chance that the spinner will land on the white part and then the shaded part?